

ENABLING COMPONENTS TO BE REMOVED
WITHOUT HOT SWAP CIRCUITRY

Abstract of the Disclosure

A processor-based system may function without 5 expensive hot swap circuitry by preventing component swapping with power applied to the system. The access to a swappable component may be arranged so that the component can not be removed with a power carrying cable plugged into the system.